

VALERIE RENK

BOARD BRIEF | EXPERIENCED NON-PROFIT CEO

OBJECTIVE

To use my broad business experience, governance background, P&L and asset management experience for benefit of an organization's board

BOARD EXPERIENCE

FOR PROFIT BOARDS

Valerie has been a compensated member of the Community Investment Advisory Committee at the Federal Home Loan Bank of Chicago since 2018, where she also served on its Diversity and Inclusion committee. She also is a Principal & Director of Johnson Land, a family partnership and trust.

NON-PROFIT BOARDS

Valerie has been a director of many non-profit boards over the past four decades. She was recently elected to the board of the seventh largest Rotary Club in the world, where she was already a director of their Foundation Board. She is on her local chamber of commerce board and recently finished officer board positions for UW-Madison's alumni association for the College of Ag & Life Sciences (WALSAA) and the Wis 4-H Foundation.

CAREER/AREAS OF EXPERTISE

Valerie has been CEO of Habitat for Humanity of Dane Co. since 2012, where she manages 37 staff and 3,000 volunteers with a $7,000,000 budget, along with 9 million+ in assets ($1.5 million in land under development, one retail store, a warehouse, an office building and a fleet of construction vehicles/building equipment.)

Previously, Valerie worked in development for global microfinance in the financial services industry. She also has experience in agriculture, higher education, and cooperatives.

Born in Illinois, Valerie received a BS from UW-Madison, graduating with distinction and earning memberships in two honorary societies.

Valerie has spoken on a cooperatives panel at the United Nations and to numerous local, state, and national groups. She and her husband, Jeffrey, live on his farm near Sun Prairie. She has two adult children.
